Dear Parents, Students and College Community,

This week the College held its annual Open Day. It was a most successful event as nearly 400 people came to see the College facilities. I was delighted with the many positive comments that prospective parents voiced to me and other staff during their visit. I am very grateful to our generous staff and students who volunteered their time to host those who are considering Emmanuel for their Secondary schooling.

Last week, the College students and staff voted on the naming of our new facility. I am pleased to announce that the name is the ‘Sport and Performing Arts Centre of Excellence.’ It generated great interest as nearly all members of staff and students took time to vote.

On Wednesday 16 March we held our Reunion for students who completed Year 12 in 2015. Whilst it was not that long ago that students finished their studies at the College, it was great to see them here and enjoy our new Centre. It was a great occasion and I was thrilled to see so many of the past students attend their Reunion event.

Today our students are participating in the ACC ‘D’ Division Swimming Carnival. At the time of writing this article, the Carnival was still in progress and no results were available. However, our students were very competitive and I am confident of a forward showing.

Our Year 11 & 12 Reports will be distributed electronically this afternoon. As previously mentioned, the data presented in these Reports provides parents with crucial information regarding the academic standing of their children’s progress in each subject. It is imperative that students change subjects immediately if necessary. The opportunity for parents to discuss the Report information further is available by attending the Year 11/12 Parent Interview Evening on Wednesday next week.

I am looking forward to our, ‘P&F Welcome to Families Picnic’ tomorrow late afternoon. The event will run from 4.30pm – 7.30pm. Please bring your own picnic and chairs or order from the Pizza Van.

I hope many of you can join us and enjoy a social afternoon/evening together.

God Bless,

Mr Leo Di Gregorio
Principal

Senior Girls Cricket Carnival

On Tuesday 15 March I had the pleasure of coaching the Senior Girls Cricket Team. We travelled to Harold Rossiter Reserve to compete in the Peta Verco Shield South Division Carnival. The girls team consisted of the following Year 12 students: Georgia Congleton, Tylah Olsen, Shania Bruce, Hannah McCarthy and Aleesha Matic. They were joined with the following Year 11 students: Imogen Spencer, Amber Collard, Chelsea Cusack, Isobel Frankovic and Emma Kerrison.

The girls had big shoes to fill as the Senior Girls Team won this competition in 2015. The format of the competition was T20 blast which means that 8 students are on the field and they all ball, field, wicket keep and bat each round. When batting the pair faces 2 overs guaranteed. When a player is called out the umpire records it and adds 5 runs to the opposing teams score. This style of cricket allows for maximum exposure to all the skills of cricket.

In the first round the girls had a great start with some massive hits and great catches to come away with a win against Leeming SHS (A) 168 to 135. In Round two we met the second team from Leeming SHS, the girls once again came out firing, and won 190 to 80. We met Kent Street SHS in round three and the girls were a little nervous as this school has a specialist cricket program. Kent Street began batting and put in a solid effort posting a score of 107. The Emmanuel girls came into bat and once again showed off some impressive batting skills to come away with 185 runs and another win. The excitement was building amongst the team as we were putting ourselves in a good position to take out the competition.

Round Four we played Australian Islamic College and came away with another win 213-77. In the last round of the day we played Melville Senior High School and they posted a really high score for us to chase. The girls were nervous but came out and batted fantastically to post a score of 161 beating Melville’s score of 127.

Well Done to all the girls, your sportsmanship and team spirit was amazing and you should all be proud of yourselves.

Billy Cart Update — Winners are Grinners!

Our “ECCEL8” team put in an outstanding effort at the inaugural Cockburn Central Billycart Festival recently.

Battling tough track conditions in 37 degree heat, the boys worked together to send our cart downhill for both practise and timed runs. There were rollovers and casualties but luckily not from our team!

The results:
Gabriel Tiamzon Year 10 – 1st Place in 14-17 age division.
Thomas Pepper Year 7 – 2nd place in 10 – 13 age division – only missing out on 1st by 0.29 of a second!

In fact our cart “ECCEL8” was placed 3rd (Gabriel) and 5th (Thomas) fastest out of 130 timed downhill runs and was only beaten by one cart in the 18+ age category. This is an outstanding result and full credit to the whole team on the day – each of whom participated in some way.

Also a huge thanks to the Design & Technology staff who pitched in their expertise to develop a fast yet safe cart for our team.

Year 8 Bush Rangers Orientation Camp

On Thursday and Friday of last week the Year 8 Bush Rangers Unit had their first camp of the year. This was our first camp where we would learn about setting up a campsite, how to act on camp as well as investigating our topic of reptiles and birds.

We started our camp heading off to Perth Zoo on public transport. Using public transport minimises the amount of pollutants we put into the atmosphere so it was the better choice than taking a bus. We all boarded the train taking seats—though each time we came to station with more people getting on we would offer them our seats. We got off the train at Elizabeth Quay station and headed onto the ferry across to Mends Street Jetty, from there we walked to Perth Zoo. Whilst at the zoo we had to focus on Australian native animals and reptiles. It was a really humid day but it was great to wander around the zoo with our teachers.

We travelled back to school via public transport, with a quick stop at Elizabeth Quay for some awesome photo opportunities. Once back at school we broke off into boys and girls. The girls started by putting their tents up led by Miss Deacon and Mr Foote. The boys went to see a presentation from Yvonne from the Birds of Prey Centre. After an hour we switched. Yvonne and her birds of prey were a highlight of the camp. Each of us got to have a photo with a wedge-tailed eagle which was pretty special—though we think Mr Scally got the best photo!

We had an awesome dinner cooked by Mrs Barraclough and Mrs Durrant and watched the movie Oddball to prepare us for our next day at Penguin Island. We all collapsed in our tents and were all asleep fairly quickly according to the teachers.

The next day we had to pack up quickly—we were threatened with footy boys running over our tents on the oval if we didn’t get organised. We did manage to get everything sorted and packed away, have a quick breakfast then get on the buses to head to Penguin Island. We had a short ferry ride to get to the island and then an opportunity to walk all the way around the island. We saw lots of birds nesting, including pelicans and seagulls as well as some awesome
On Monday we had 31 students who braved the heat to complete some weeding and cleaning up of garden beds at Emmanuel. Due to the heat, students were broken up into two groups to complete a shorter session of gardening and to create their own Enviro themed name tags. It was great to see so many students brave the conditions and learn to identify weeds and how to remove them from the garden beds. Some students even spent some time learning about the Balga trees we have around the College and their importance to Noongar culture.

The next session will be on Monday 4 April (after Emmanuel Day) and we will be doing some planting and a litter audit from the day. We are still looking for some older students to come along and help for Christian Service hours. If you are interested or want to join the club, please contact me via email or direct message.

Inter-School Mock Trials 2016

After a huge start last year where we had won 3 out of 3 trials against Corpus Christi, we were up with a much bigger challenge this year when we were drawn St Hilda’s as opponents for both of our teams in the first round.

I'm proud to say that our students did brilliantly and simply annihilated our opponents. We won both trials against their teams and our scores were:

- Emmanuel Stellae 130 v St Hilda's 116
- Burn Notice 140 v St Hilda's 122

Our students were much better prepared than our opponents and displayed a much greater understanding of court procedures and this was very evident throughout the night.

The following students played roles in the trials:

- Emmanuel Stellae:
  - Barristers: Jace Resic and Lily Martin
  - Witnesses: Alexei Taroy and Karise Cheong
  - Court Orderly: Chamishka Isaacs
  - Solicitor: Lucinda Poyser

- Burn Notice:
  - Barristers: Tommy-Lee Davies and Haris Kulenovic
  - Witnesses: Olivia Ward and Jaahnavi Cheyyur
  - Court Orderly: Jayant Cheyyur
  - Solicitor: Nicholas Bontempo

The students are feeling extremely pleased about this fantastic result, and I wish them all congratulations on their great achievement.

A sincere thank you goes to Mr Michael Judd and Dr Lynette Field for assisting me in preparing the students over the past weeks. Thank you also to Ms Sally Scata who came to support us on Monday night.

Class of 2015 - One Year Reunion

On Wednesday afternoon, Emmanuel welcomed back over 90 of our Class of 2015 graduates to celebrate their one year reunion.

This was an exciting time for our graduates, who had the opportunity to tour our new Sport and Performing Arts Centre of Excellence and be presented with their 2015 Annual. After a tour of the new facilities the graduates enjoyed a little basketball in the new Centre, and caught up over refreshments on the verandah while the sun was going down.

This is the first of many reunions for our graduates and we look forward to welcoming them again numerous times to Emmanuel into the future.

5 Ways Parents Can Help Students to Excel at School

A 2014 research study shows that teenagers whose parents stay involved in their child’s education through the secondary school years are more likely to have positive academic, behavioral, and social-emotional outcomes.

In the past, parental engagement has been widely recognized as essential for student success during primary school years. It is now becoming clear in current research that parental involvement is also significant in the secondary school years.

The University of Pittsburgh research study has found that “quality parental involvement is not as simple as more is better or less is more at any one point in a child’s life”. “It is far more complex than that, and there are many variables that go into how parents interact with their children over time. The key findings here are that parents should always be involved, but they need to give great thought as to how they are involved and the manner in which they stay involved as the child ages.”

Published in the “Child Development” research journal: the study included more than 1,400 families in the United States. Researchers used questionnaires and interviews to gather information from a selection of teenagers in the 7th, 9th, and 11th grades and their parents.

Five Ways Parents can get Involved

The research team assessed the effects of five types of parental involvement on academic, behavioural, and mental health outcomes:

- frequency of communication between parents and teachers
- quality of communication between parents and teachers
- extent to which parents encouraged children to figure out their own solutions to homework
- structure parents established at home in the form of schedules and guidelines for studying
- extent to which parents discussed with their children the importance of education in future success.

The Research Results

Academic Outcomes: All five types of parental involvement were associated with improvements in academic results from 7th to 11th grade. Additionally, the findings showed that high levels of parental structure in the home were particularly beneficial.

Behaviour: Frequency of parent-teacher communication, home structure, and linking education with future success were associated with decreased overall problem behaviors for adolescents.
Emotional Outcomes: Lower depressive levels in adolescents were linked with the quality of communication between parents and teachers, the extent to which parents challenged students to figure out their own solutions to homework, and the linking of education to future success. Also, the level of parental warmth within the home played a significant role in developing emotional well-being across all races and socioeconomic backgrounds.

“Our findings highlight the importance of adapting the level and nature of parental involvement in education to adolescents’ changing psychological needs,” Wang says.

“What worked in elementary school may not work in secondary school, and what works for adolescents in secondary school depends on what outcome is of interest or in need of attention. These results pave the way for developing targeted interventions and for providing strategic support to families and their adolescents.”

“While adolescents pursue increased independence and autonomy, the benefits of providing structure at home are best realized in the context of warm parent–adolescent relationships”.
